

On the gender in education and culture in early and middle edo priod

メタデータ	言語: jpn 出版者: 公開日: 2021-09-06 キーワード (Ja): キーワード (En): 作成者: Nakano, Setsuko メールアドレス: 所属:
URL	https://doi.org/10.24517/00064065

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 3.0 International License.

1999 Fiscal Year Final Research Report Summary

ON THE GENDER IN EDUCATION AND CULTURE IN EARLY AND MIDDLE EDO PRIOD

Research Project

Project/Area Number

10610322

Research Category

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (C)

Allocation Type

Single-year Grants

Section

一般

Research Field

Japanese history

Research Institution

KANAZAWA UNIVERSITY

Principal Investigator

NAKANO Setsuko Kanazawa Univ., Faculty of Letters, assistant professor, 文学部, 助教授 (60019338)

Project Period (FY)

1998 – 1999

Keywords

EDO PRIOD / GENDER / EDUCATION / KANA / ONNADAIGAKU / CONFUCIONISM / IE / TENDERNESS / CULTURE / PUBLICATION

Research Abstract

This research handles the history of women's culture in early and middle Edo period on which few researches have been done. According to the preceding researches of women's history in Edo period, the development of the New-Confucianism strengthened the discrimination to women and became one of the big elements to bring the worse situation for women than the previous period. But, these ideas have not been sufficiently inspected in historical studies. In this book, I take the notice on the changing from Buddhism to Confucianism as the moral authority of the society and clarify that the New-Confucianism worked progressively actively for the mental development of women in those years. And viewing through the history of women's culture, I point the Genroku-Kyoho period was the turning period when the women's culture which was continued from Heian period until then and composed of Buddhism elements, changed into the new culture.

"Chap.1 The Women's Family and Works Viewed in Kana-soshi (books written) …▼ More

